Critical Illness Cover

When illness happens, life doesn't stop

A difficult time made a little easier

Diagnosis of a critical illness can be a stressful time as the demands of daily life still go on. But with the reassurance of Critical Illness Cover, your clients can take time to focus on what's really important. That could include spending time recuperating, having treatment, or being around family.

The financial support provided by the pay-out can help take away money worries from an already difficult situation, avoid the need to rush back to work before feeling ready, or make adjustments to the house for the future. What's more, it means they may not need to use any savings they have and could even help pay for a restorative break.

Why clients may think its not important

It's easy to assume or hope your client would never be affected by a critical illness, but the reality is it could happen to anyone – and when they least expect it.

“The insurer won't pay out”

We paid out c.97% of total claims in 2021 to 16,890 people.

“It won't happen to me”

In the UK, 1 in 2 people will be diagnosed with cancer in their lifetime – the top cause for our CIC claims in 2021.

“It doesn't pay out much”

The average customer pay out for CIC in 2021 was £72,473.

“What if my circumstances change?”

Our Critical Illness Cover provides the flexibility for the cover to be increased up to three times in total for certain specified events, without the need for further medical evidence. Eligibility criteria and restrictions apply.

Not all types of cancer are covered under critical illness cover plans.

They'll be assigned the same nurse the whole time, who will telephone them as often as they need and there's no limit on the number or length of calls.
