Understanding the legal process

We understand that sometimes legal processes can seem complicated. This leaflet will give you a better understanding of what is involved, what to expect at each stage and what you need to do next.

Applying for a lifetime mortgage

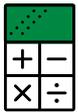

Now that you've applied for your lifetime mortgage and had a valuation of your home, you will have received your lifetime mortgage offer (otherwise known as an Offer of Loan).

There are checks and a legal process that must now be completed before we can release the money on your lifetime mortgage. These are detailed on the opposite page.

Step 1 Application

Your completed application has been received. You must appoint a solicitor to act on your behalf.

Step 2 Valuation

Your home will be independently valued.

Step 3 Offer

If we accept your application and the valuation, we'll send you your Offer of Loan.

Step 4 Insure your home

If you haven't already done so, you must have Building's Insurance on your property for at least the amount set out in your Offer of Loan.

Step 5 Legal advice

Before completion, you'll need to get legal advice from your solicitor.

Step 6 Completion

Once all the paperwork has been received, your money will be sent to your solicitor.

Understanding the legal process

You must appoint a solicitor to take you through the legal process. They will work with our solicitors to ensure this is carried out as quickly as possible. If you have any concerns, you should contact your solicitors who will be able to update you on progress. The table below shows what happens throughout the legal process, what your solicitor needs to do and how you can help. If you don't already have a solicitor, your adviser will be able to help you find one.

Frequently asked questions

How long is my lifetime mortgage offer valid for?

Your Legal & General lifetime mortgage offer is valid for 50 days and most lifetime mortgages complete within this time. However, if your lifetime mortgage doesn't complete within 50 days there is no need to worry. Your adviser can ask us for a new lifetime mortgage offer, as long as your circumstances haven't changed and the valuation remains valid.

What happens if the interest rate changes?

If during this time our interest rates have changed, and we provide you with a new lifetime mortgage offer, it could be on a higher or lower interest rate. If this happens, your adviser will explain this to you.

Are there any circumstances that will affect the legal process?

There are some situations where the legal process is more complex and where more information is needed. For example, when repaying your existing mortgage, purchasing a property or following a divorce. This can make the process take longer. It's important to keep in touch with your solicitor to get regular updates.

Who should I contact if I'm unsure about the legal process?

Your adviser will be able to inform you of the process that is being carried out and your solicitor will have an understanding of where you are in the process if you have any concerns.
